THE LARIAT Pettisville High School Pettisville, Ohio Volume 43

awakened life
peeping from its tiny house promise of spring
a tree's first leaf.

leaf against leaf.
home for birds
and little boys.
shelter from summer's heat.

paintbox of color
no longer green.
as the tree sheds her leaves turn footsteps to rustles.

black against white pearls of snow adorn her as she silently prepares for spring's awakening.

a gift of nature,
thanked with poison
from senseless living.
a struggle for life.

there's still time.
we can heal,
and bring some meaning to our senseless living.

A deeper knowledge is the key to the future, no matter what age one may be.

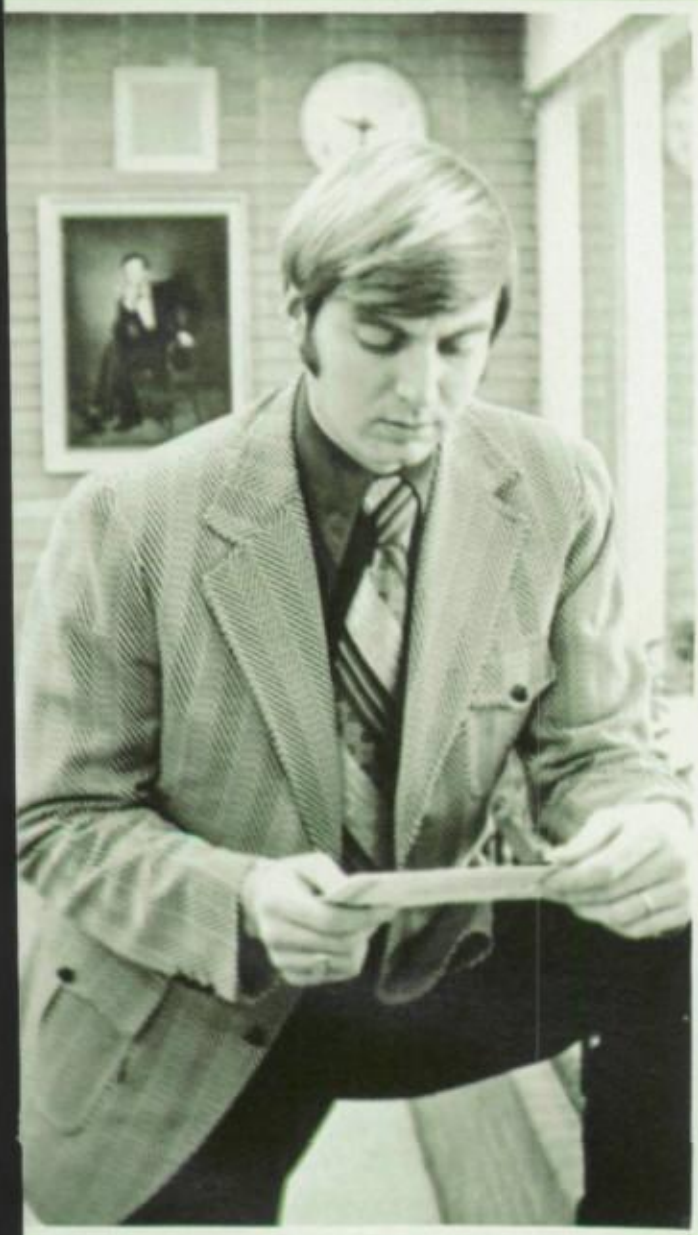

One need only know where to look to find a wealth of valuable information.

Life is made up of changing moods-one moment solemn and thoughtful, the next smiling and laughing.

Lunch hour is a good time for relaxation and discussion.

A typical day may include talking with a teacher, watching an intramural game, and writing that theme for English.

Keeping up on daily assignments is a big asset when it's time for exams.

Students may find relaxation and enjoyment in helping the teachers with their heavy schedules.

Hungry students can only wait patiently until it's time to eat lunch in the cafeteria.

Kindergartners are blest with a rest period, but older students must spend their time studying.

Study hall and a friendly teacher help in finishing assignments.

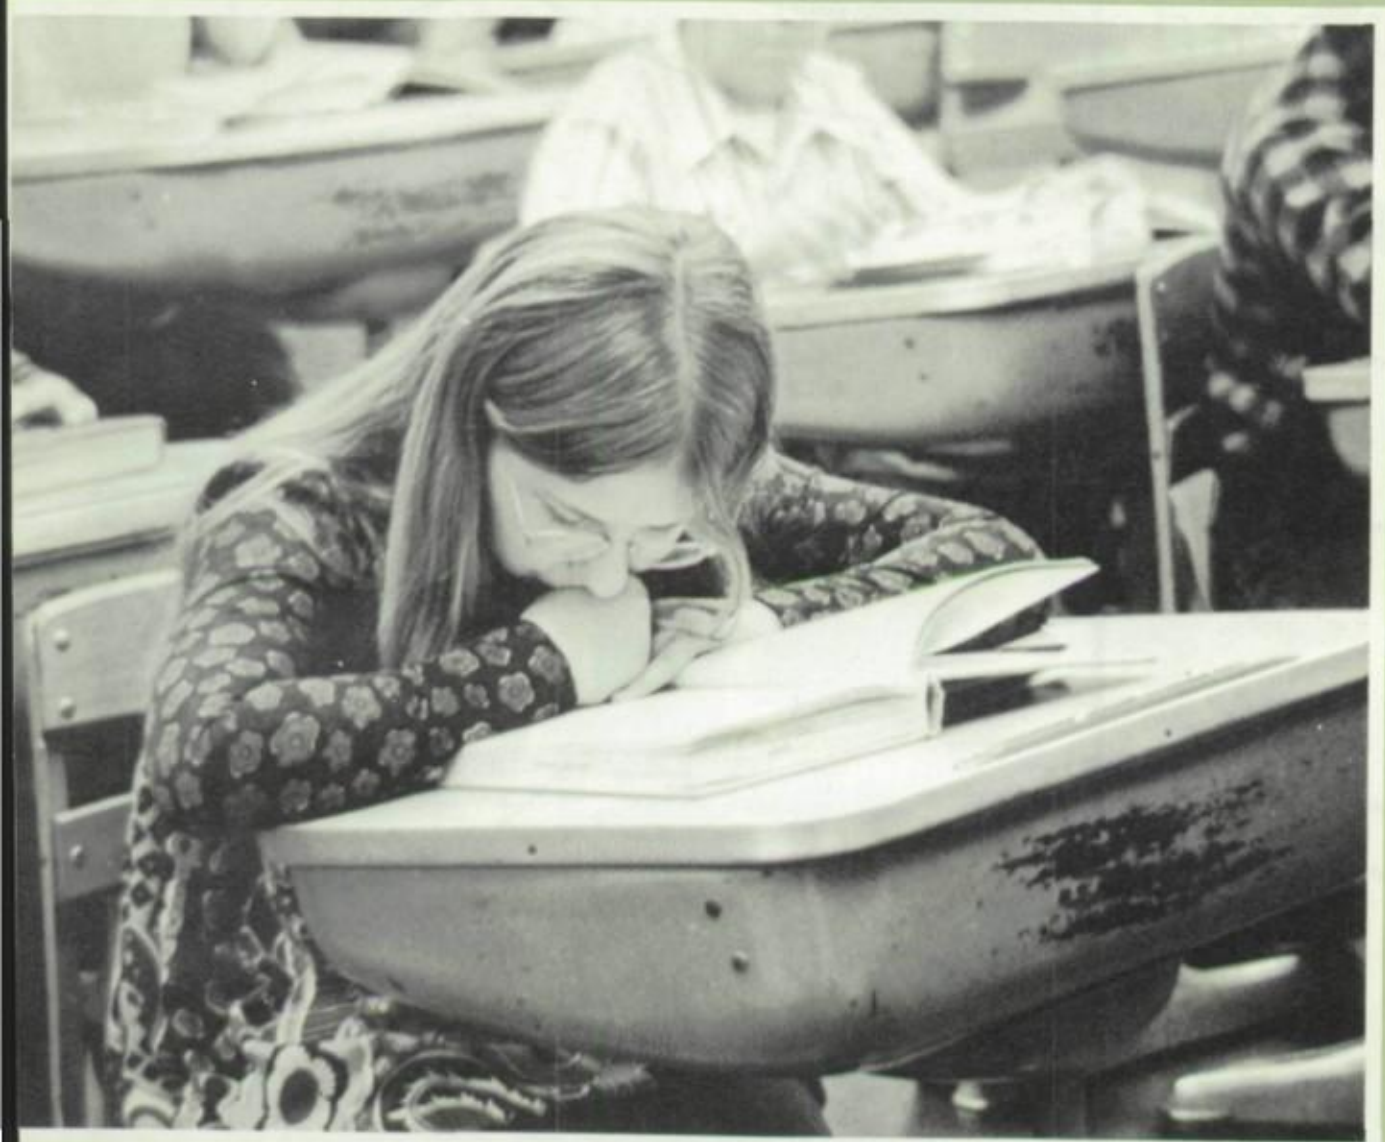

Two Pettisville students are amused with school while Paulo Lois, our Brazilian exchange student, is busy taking it all in.

Books and magazines, classroom discussions, concerned faculty teach one to care about what's happening today.

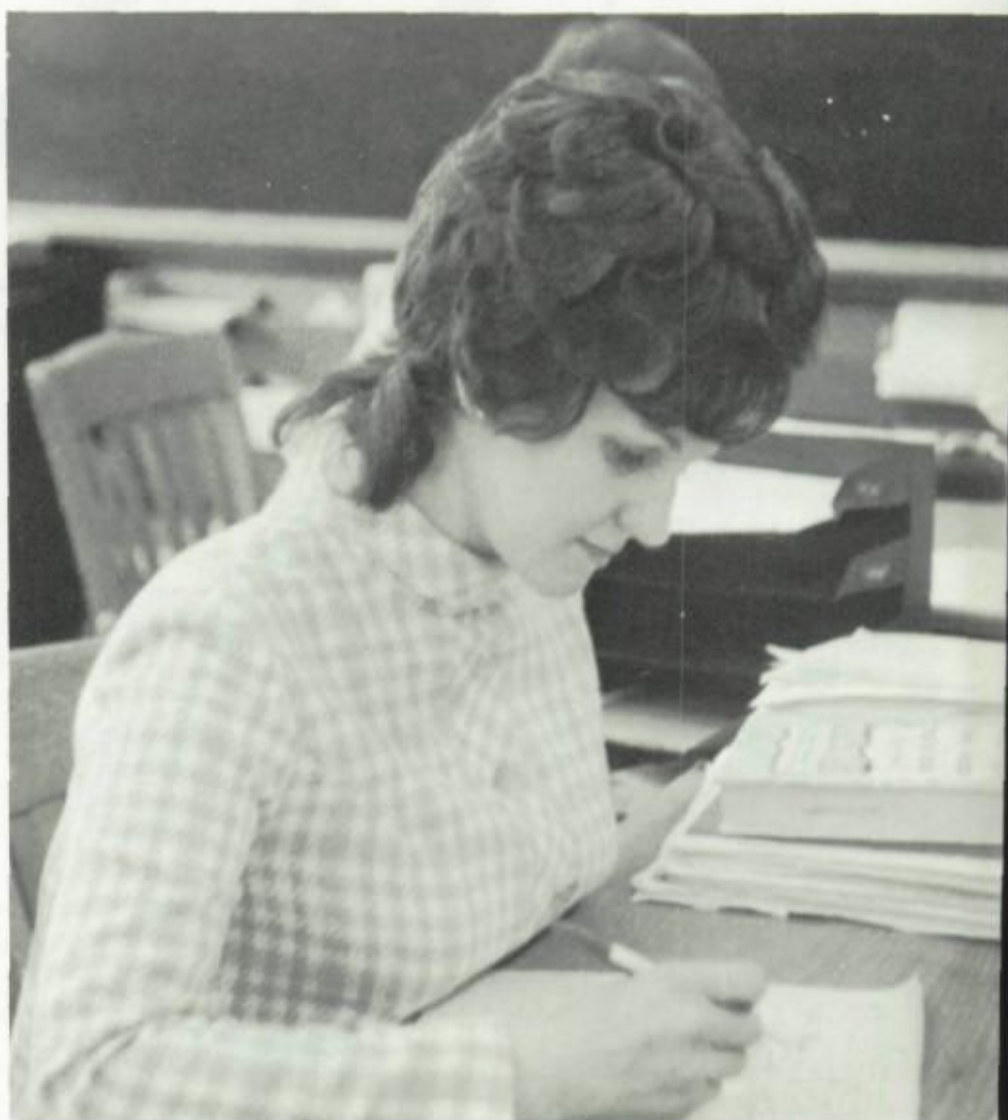

While students study hard all morning, cooks spend their time planning and preparing the noon meal.

English includes papers, projects and fun

RIGHT. Mrs. Marilyn Ripke, one of the three high school English teachers, busies herself with correcting those endless grammatical errors.

ABOVE. With the teacher out of the room, Jane Aschliman and Carma Fricke seem to be enjoying a good joke while Jack Oyer eyes them suspiciously.

RIGHT. Miss Loretta Rupp, English teacher and librarian, considers Connie Roth's request concerning her English project, while Connie waits hopefully.

LEFT. Mr. Tim Dominique, junior high reading, arithmetic, English teacher, looks up from grading papers, knowing very well that someone is out of his seat again.

LEFT. Mrs. Thelma Rychener, a high school English teacher, smiles as she considers how to answer a question.
ABOVE. Mrs. Shirley Short, Spanish and art teacher, concentrates on the best way to explain a student's mistake.

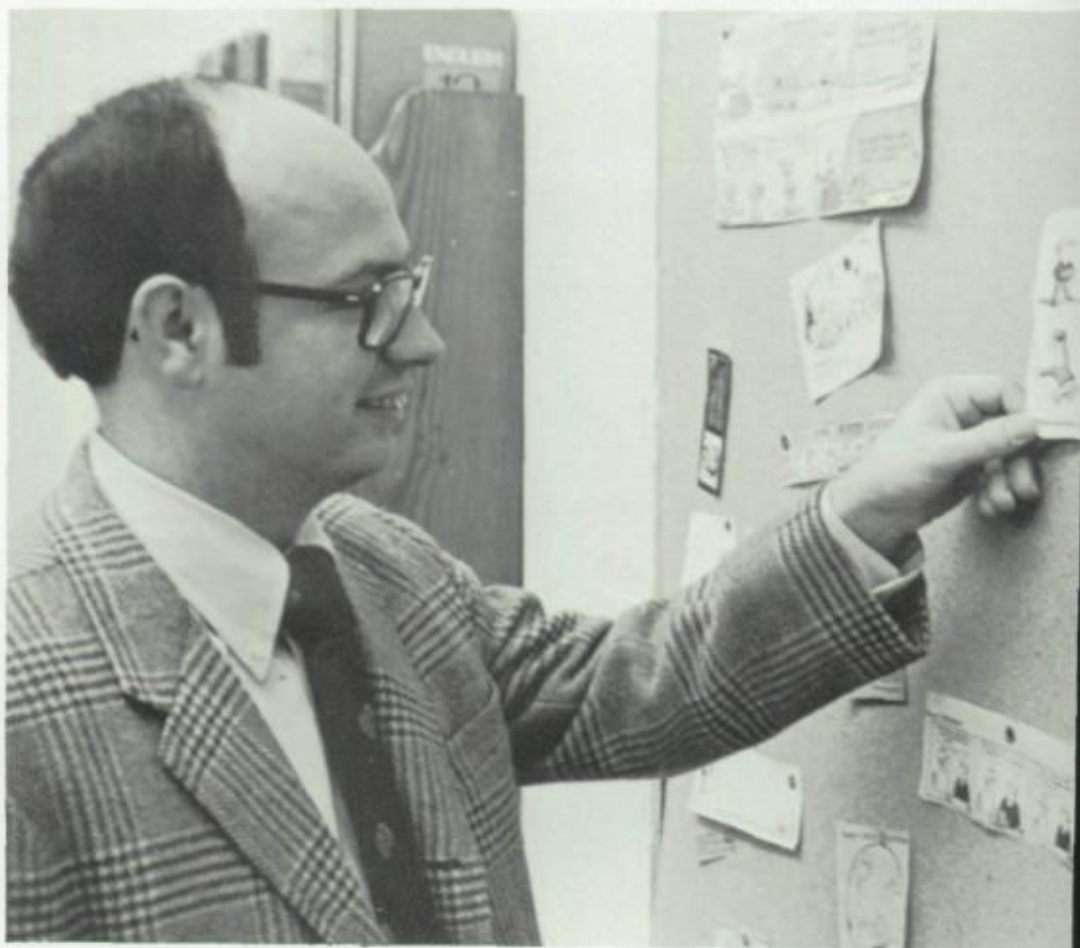

Science and math . . . the subjects of inquiring minds

ABOVE. Besides teaching biology, basic science, and eighth grade and high school arithmetic, Mr. David Ripke labors many hours at his desk preparing for classes and grading tests.

ABOVE RIGHT. Miss Penelope McCartney, who teaches physics, science seven and eight and general science, seems skeptical of the answer she received from one of her students.

RIGHT. Mr. Stephen Brannan, who teaches high school and senior math, algebra I and II, and geometry, takes time out to smile at the cartoons on his bulletin board.

Vocal classes make school more fun

LEFT. Miss Grace Cron is the high school counselor, band director, and junior high-senior high music director.

LOWER LEFT. Mrs. Linda Carver is the school's speech therapist. Besides helping students learn to speak more clearly, she directed the senior class play.

LOWER RIGHT. Mrs. Nancy Rupp taught all the elementary music classes, as well as directing an operetta.

ABOVE. Dee Ann Miller explains to Robert Fowler that the first step in typing anything on an electric typewriter is to turn the machine on.

ABOVE RIGHT. Mrs. Golda Boyer ponders the best way to tell Annette Nafziger that she is doing her work incorrectly.

RIGHT. Mig Frey presents her gastronomic creations to Mrs. Rosemary Lind, hoping that she will approve.

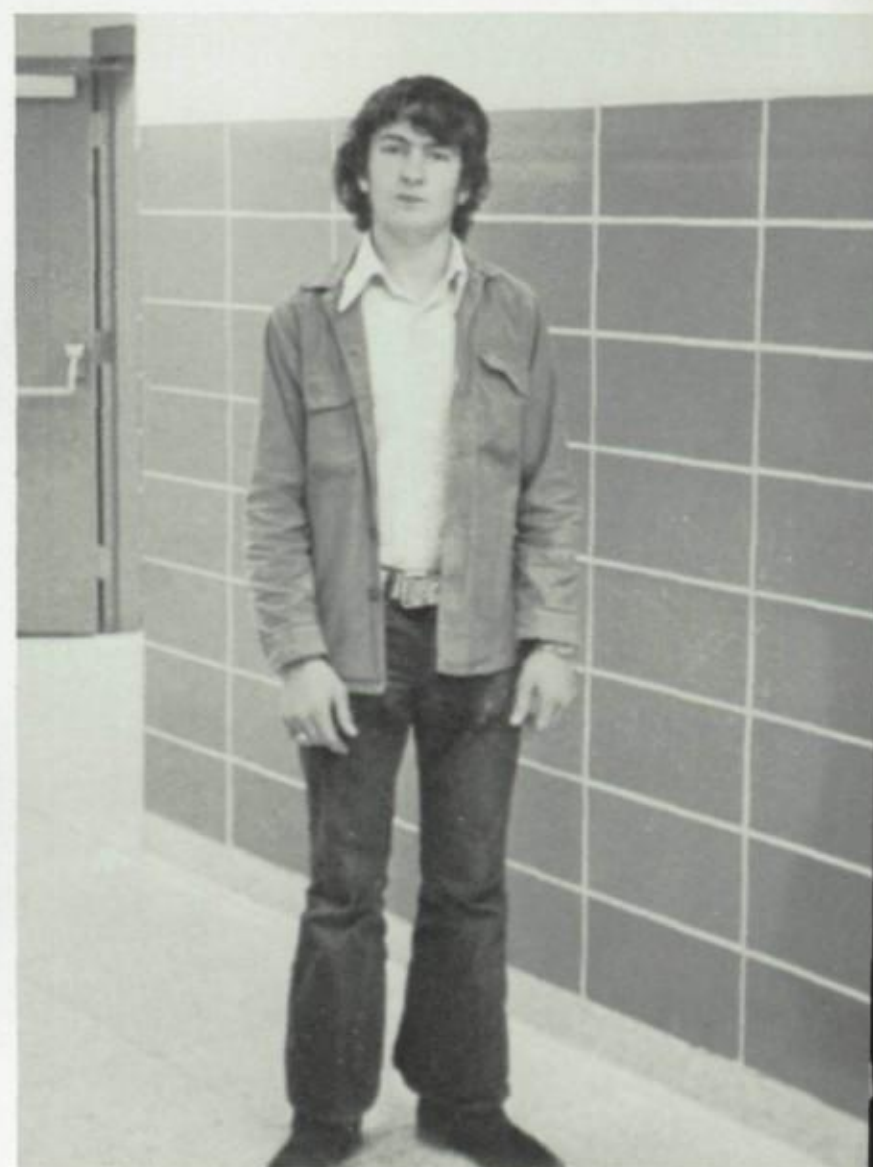

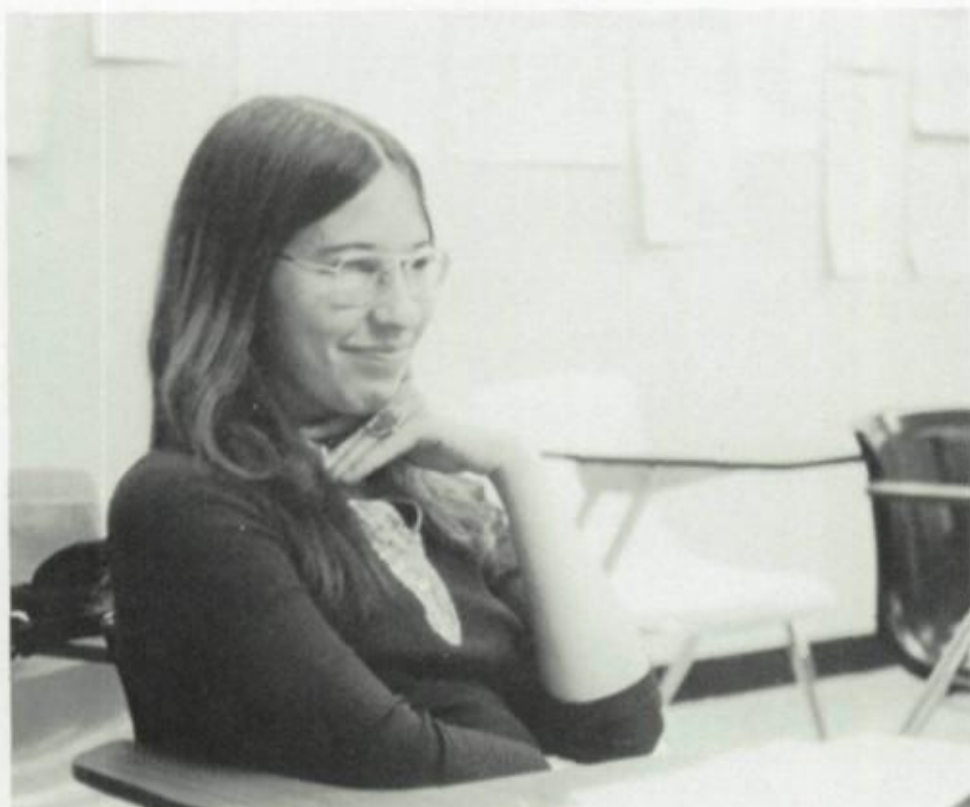

Applied knowledge is skill

TOP RIGHT. Carma Riegsecker works hard learning all the skills necessary to be an accountant. As president of her accounting class, she recieved second place for her class's display at state competition.
LOWER RIGHT. Jerry Rice pauses in the halls of the Four-County School between classes.

Four-County Vocational School life

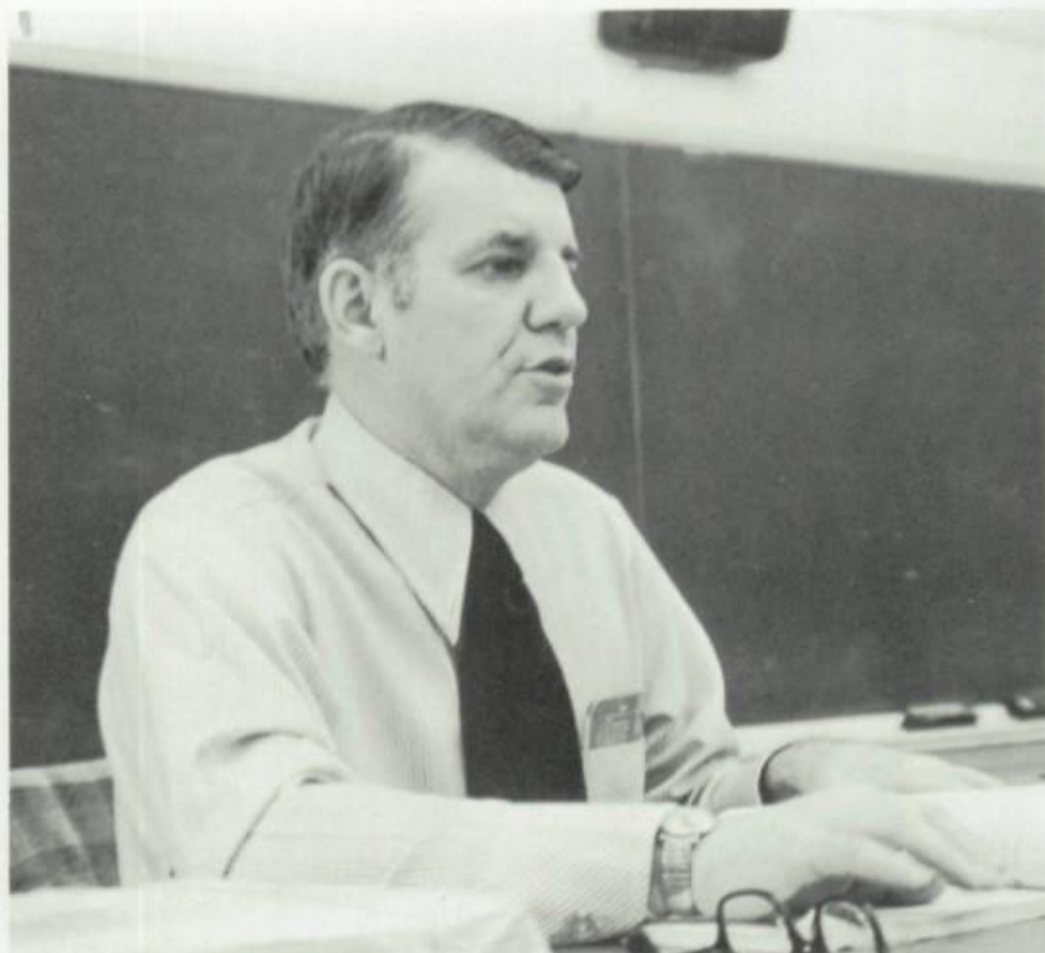

TOP LEFT. Nick Avina grins as he demonstrates some of the skill learned in data processing.

TOP RIGHT. Mark Baer proves that Four-County isn't only work. They do have time for some fun and relaxation.

LEFT. Henry Ramos shows the proper methods to use in drafting. Bob Correa watches to see that he makes no mistakes.

There is something in almost all the classes at Four-County to be entered in competition. Richard Mansfield entered in auto body competition and won third place in both district and state competition. Richard was also voted Outstanding Senior in his auto body class.

Knowledge of past is practical for present

ABOVE. Mr. Richard Selgo, boys physical education, seventh grade Ohio history and eighth grade American history teacher, explains the assignment.

LOWER RIGHT. Mr. Gary Fraizer shows one of his classes an old-fashioned apple peeler. He teaches seventh grade social studies, world geography, world history and American history.

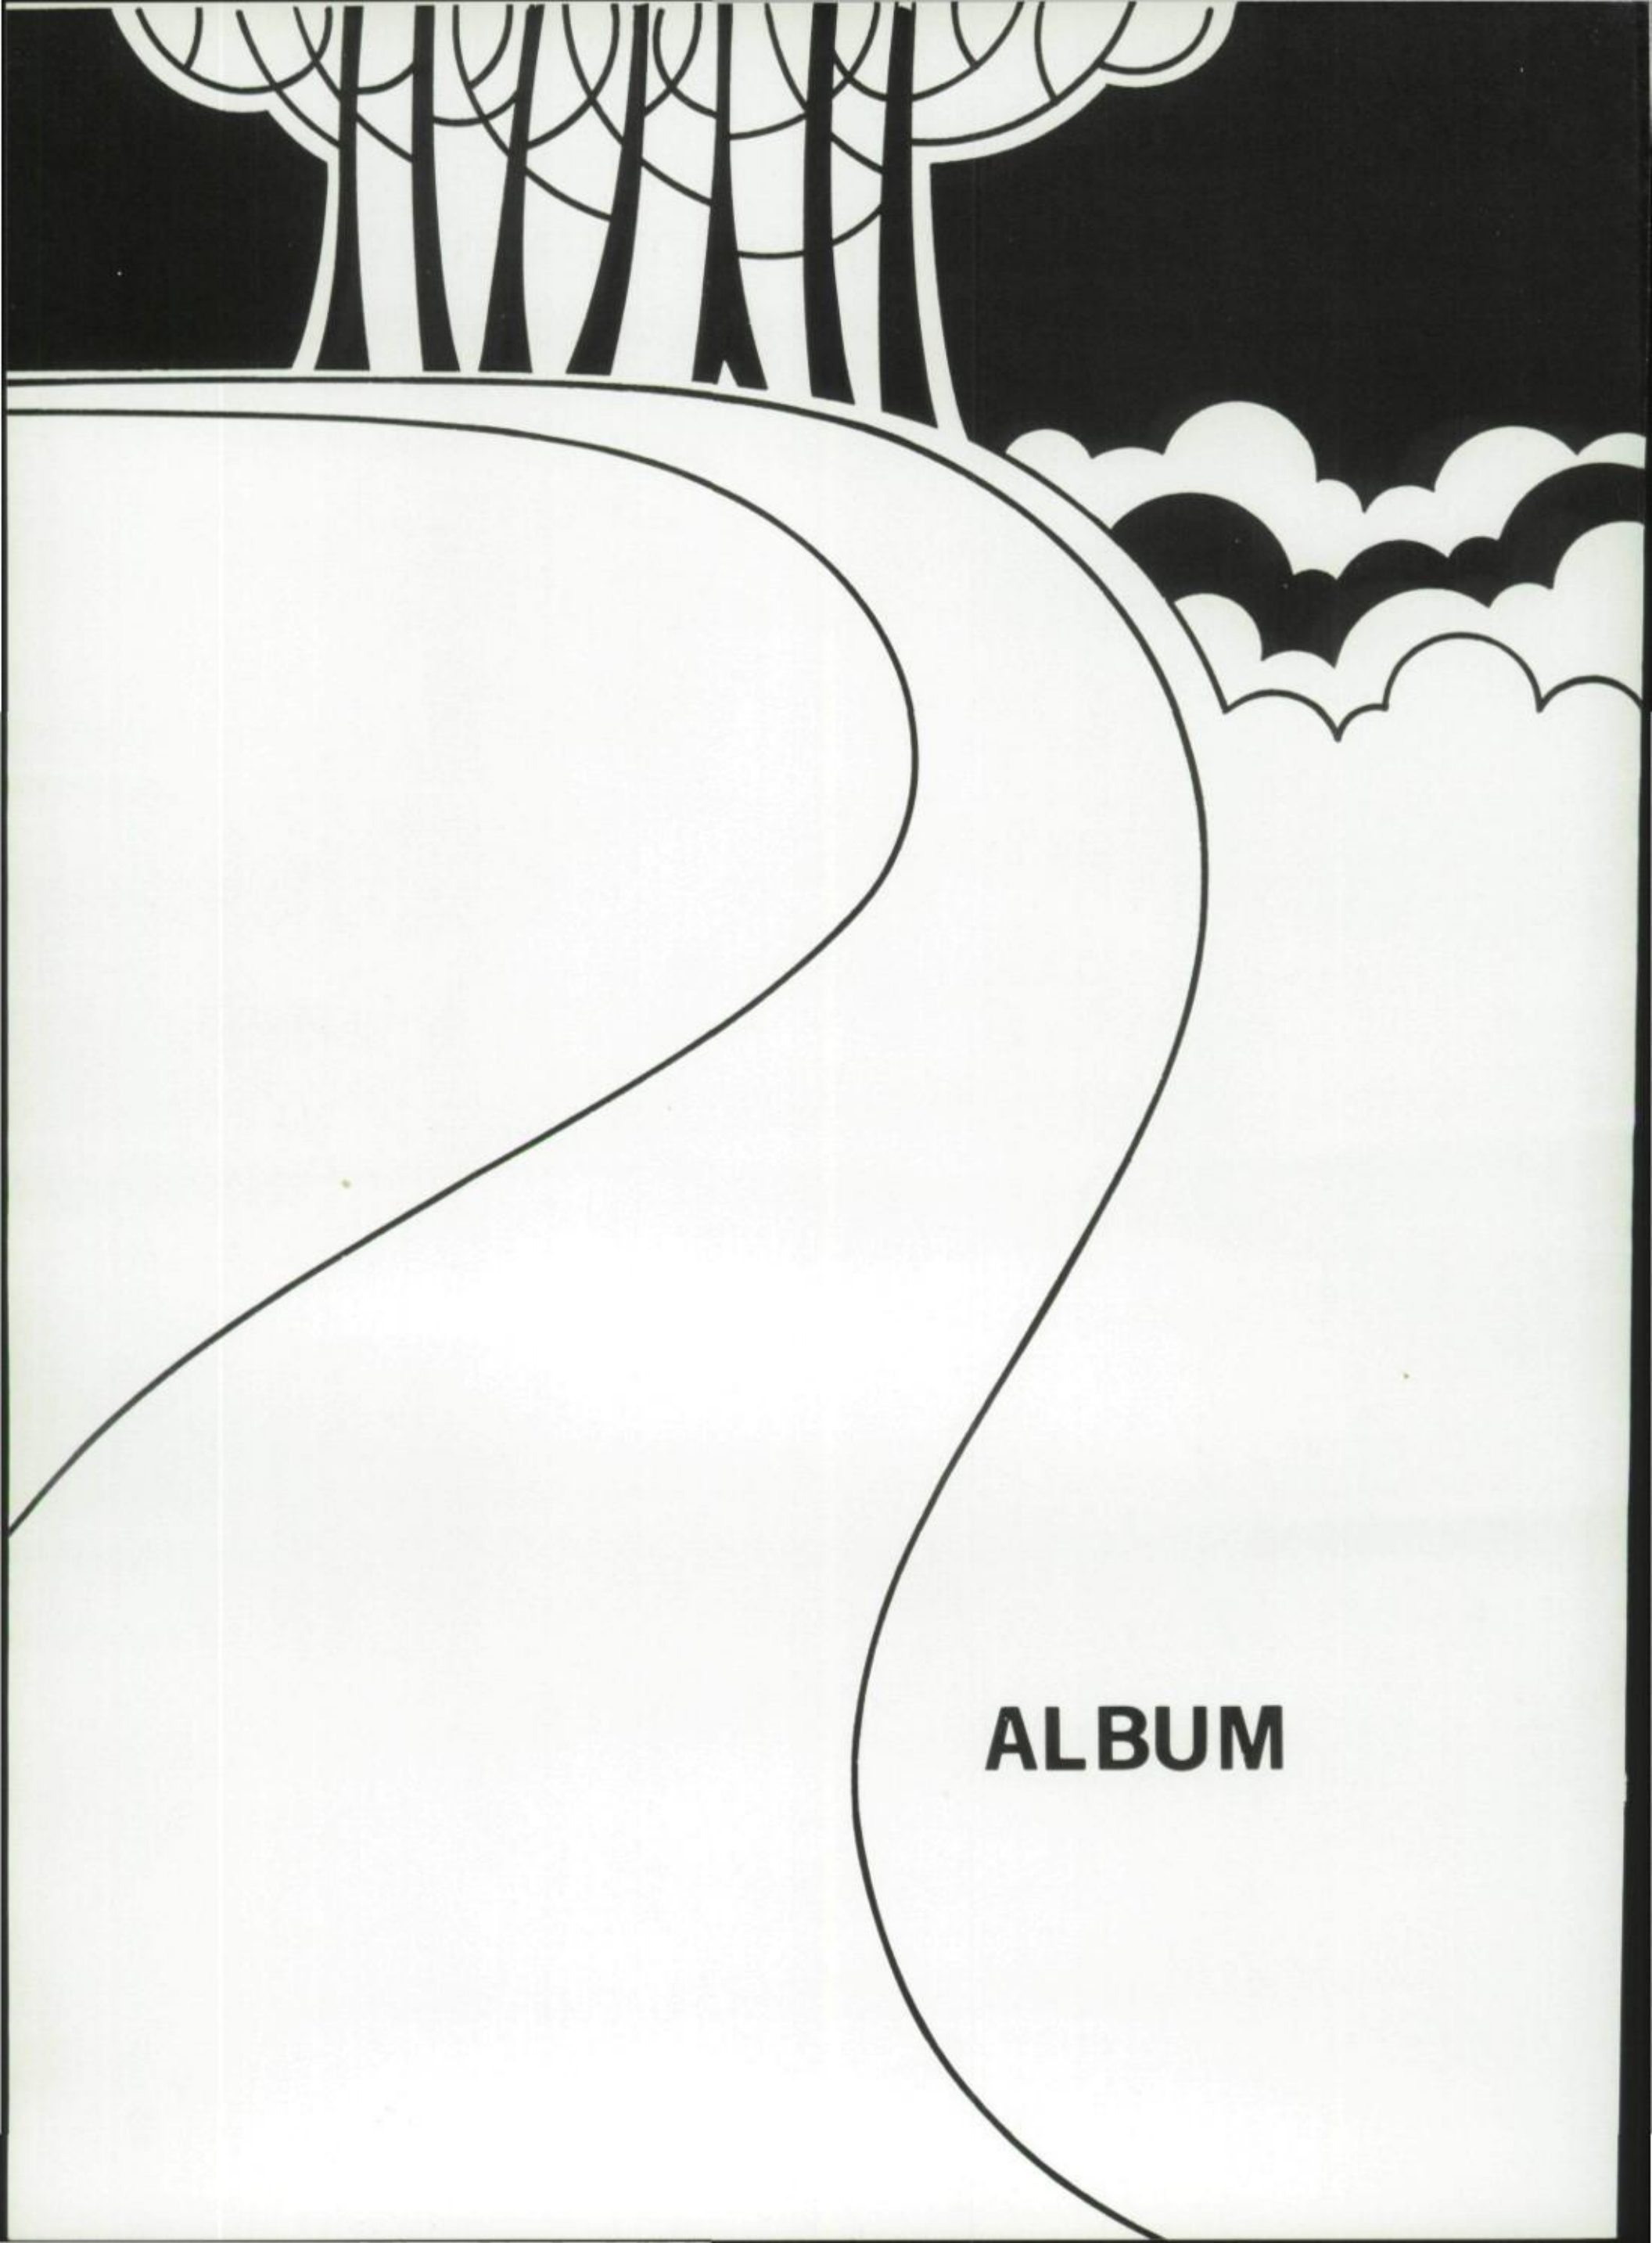

Physical education releases excess energy

UPPER LEFT. Mr. Phil Rychener, driver's education, boys' physical education and health teacher, supervises a study hall in his spare time.

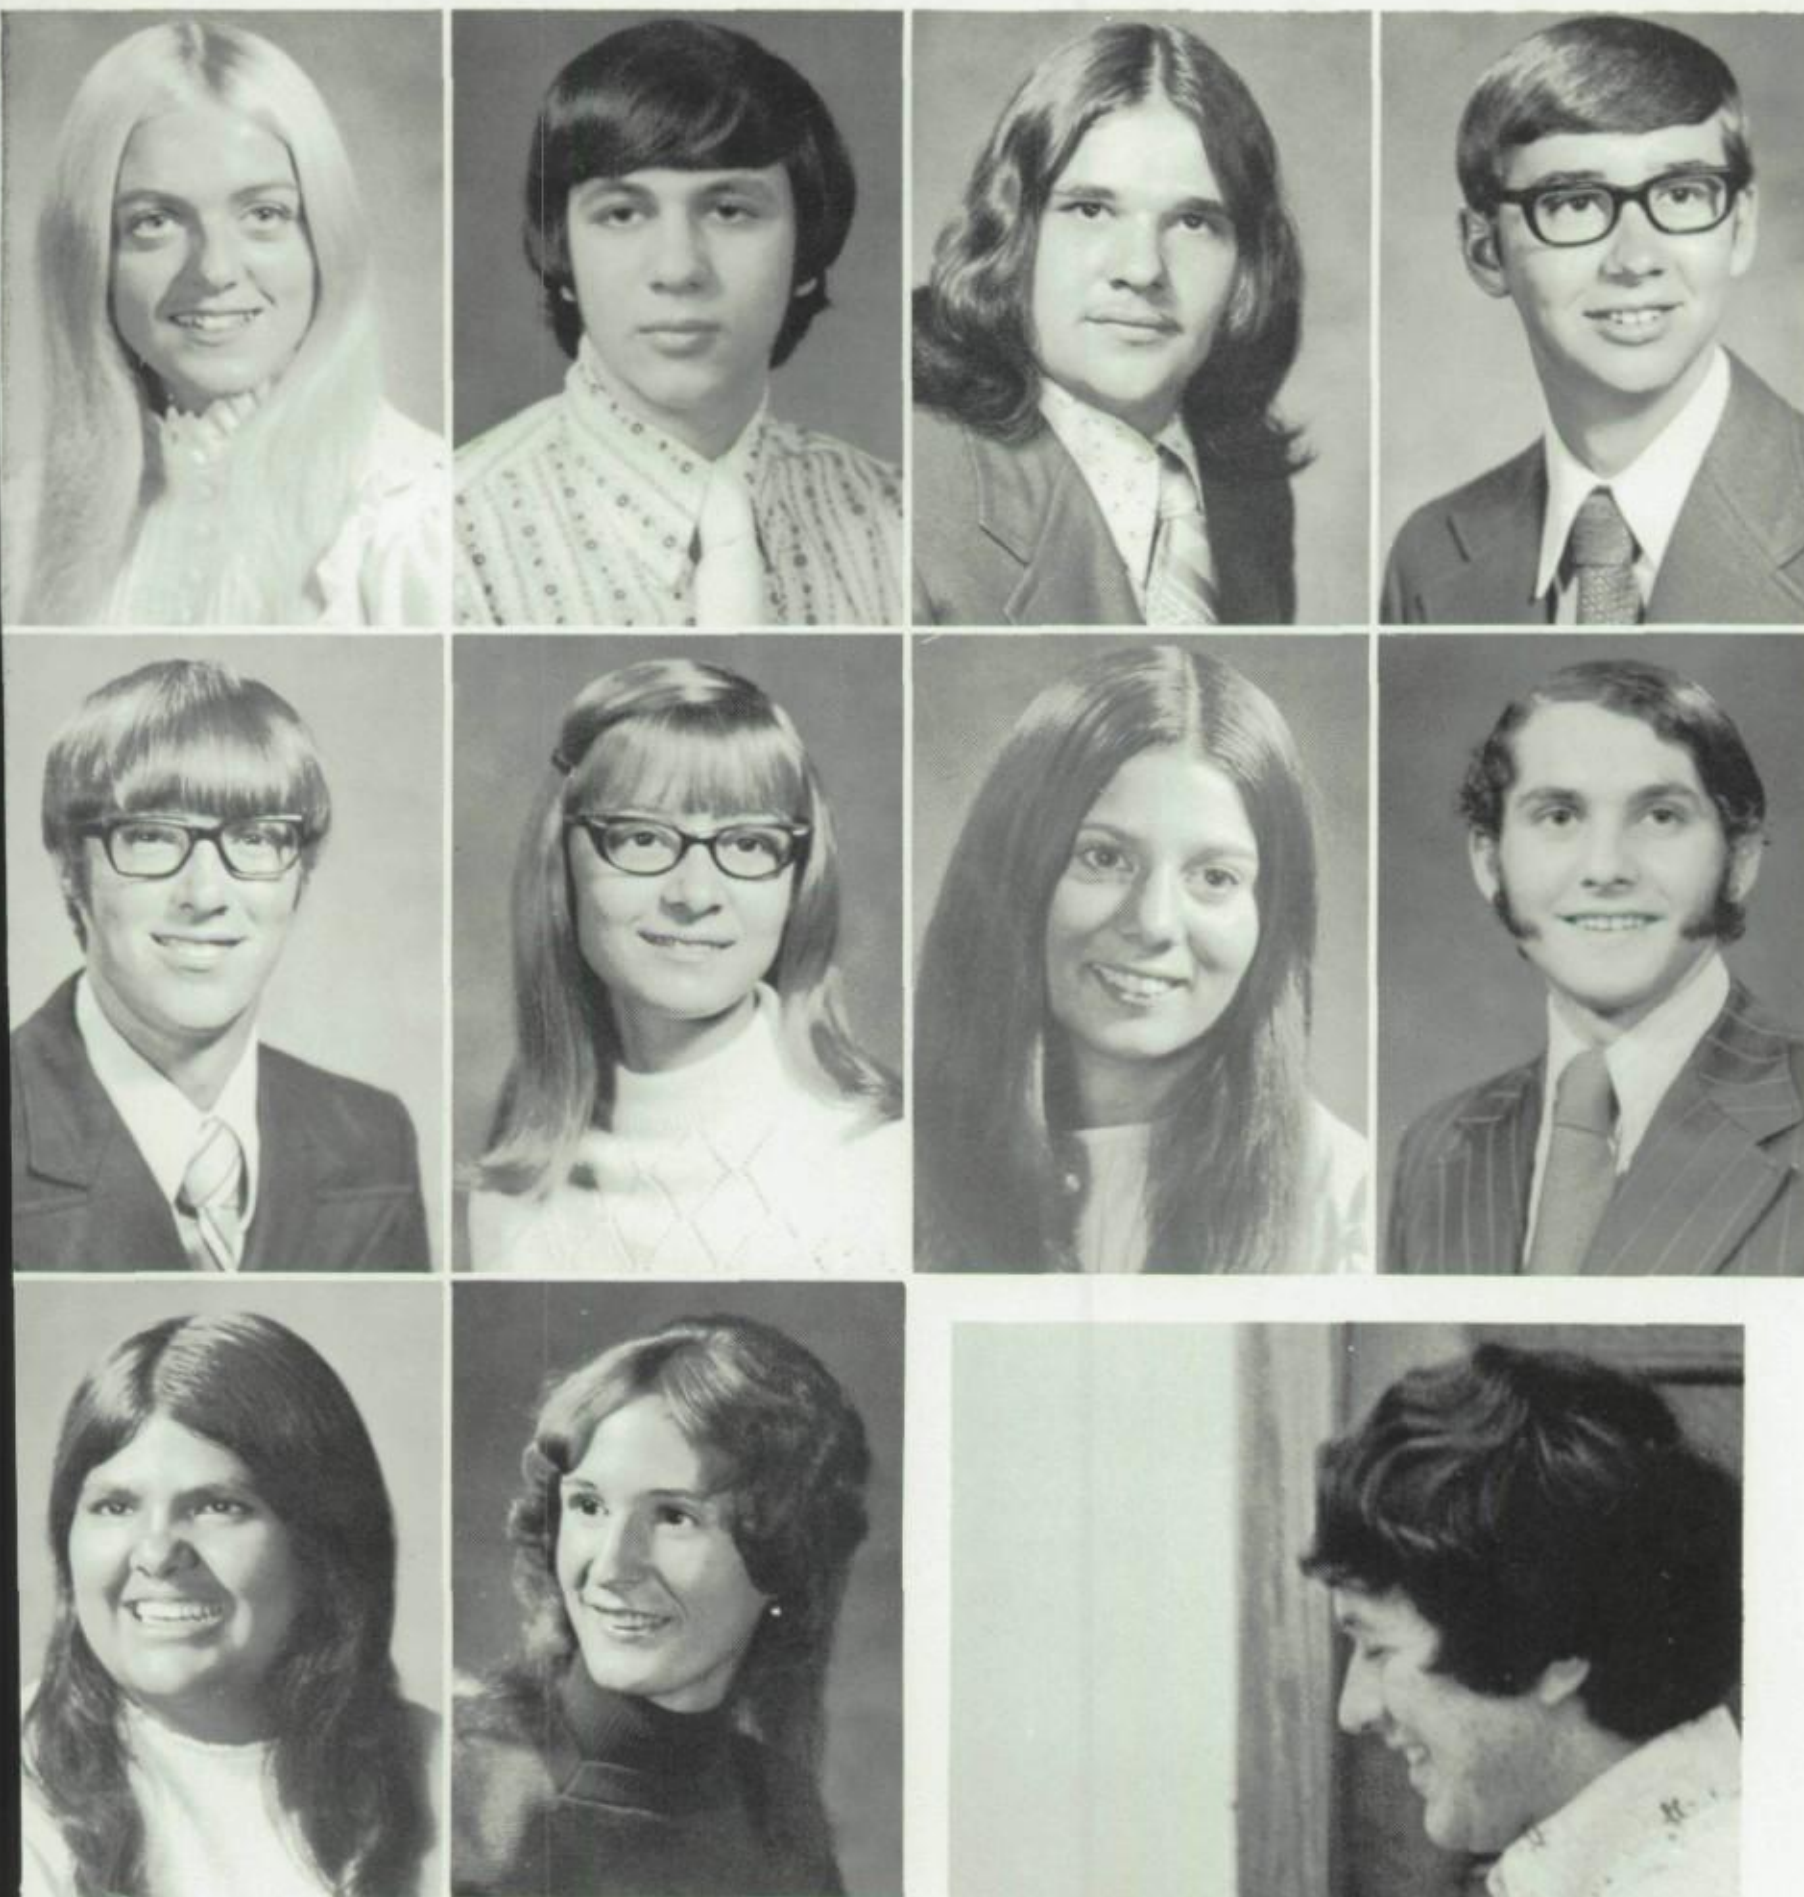

UPPER RIGHT. Mrs. Janet Pfund, girls' physical education teacher, is ready with advice as she watches her students play. She also coached the GAA teams.

LEFT. Miss Linda Beck took over Mrs. Pfund's classes in the middle of March and finished out the year for her.

ALBUM

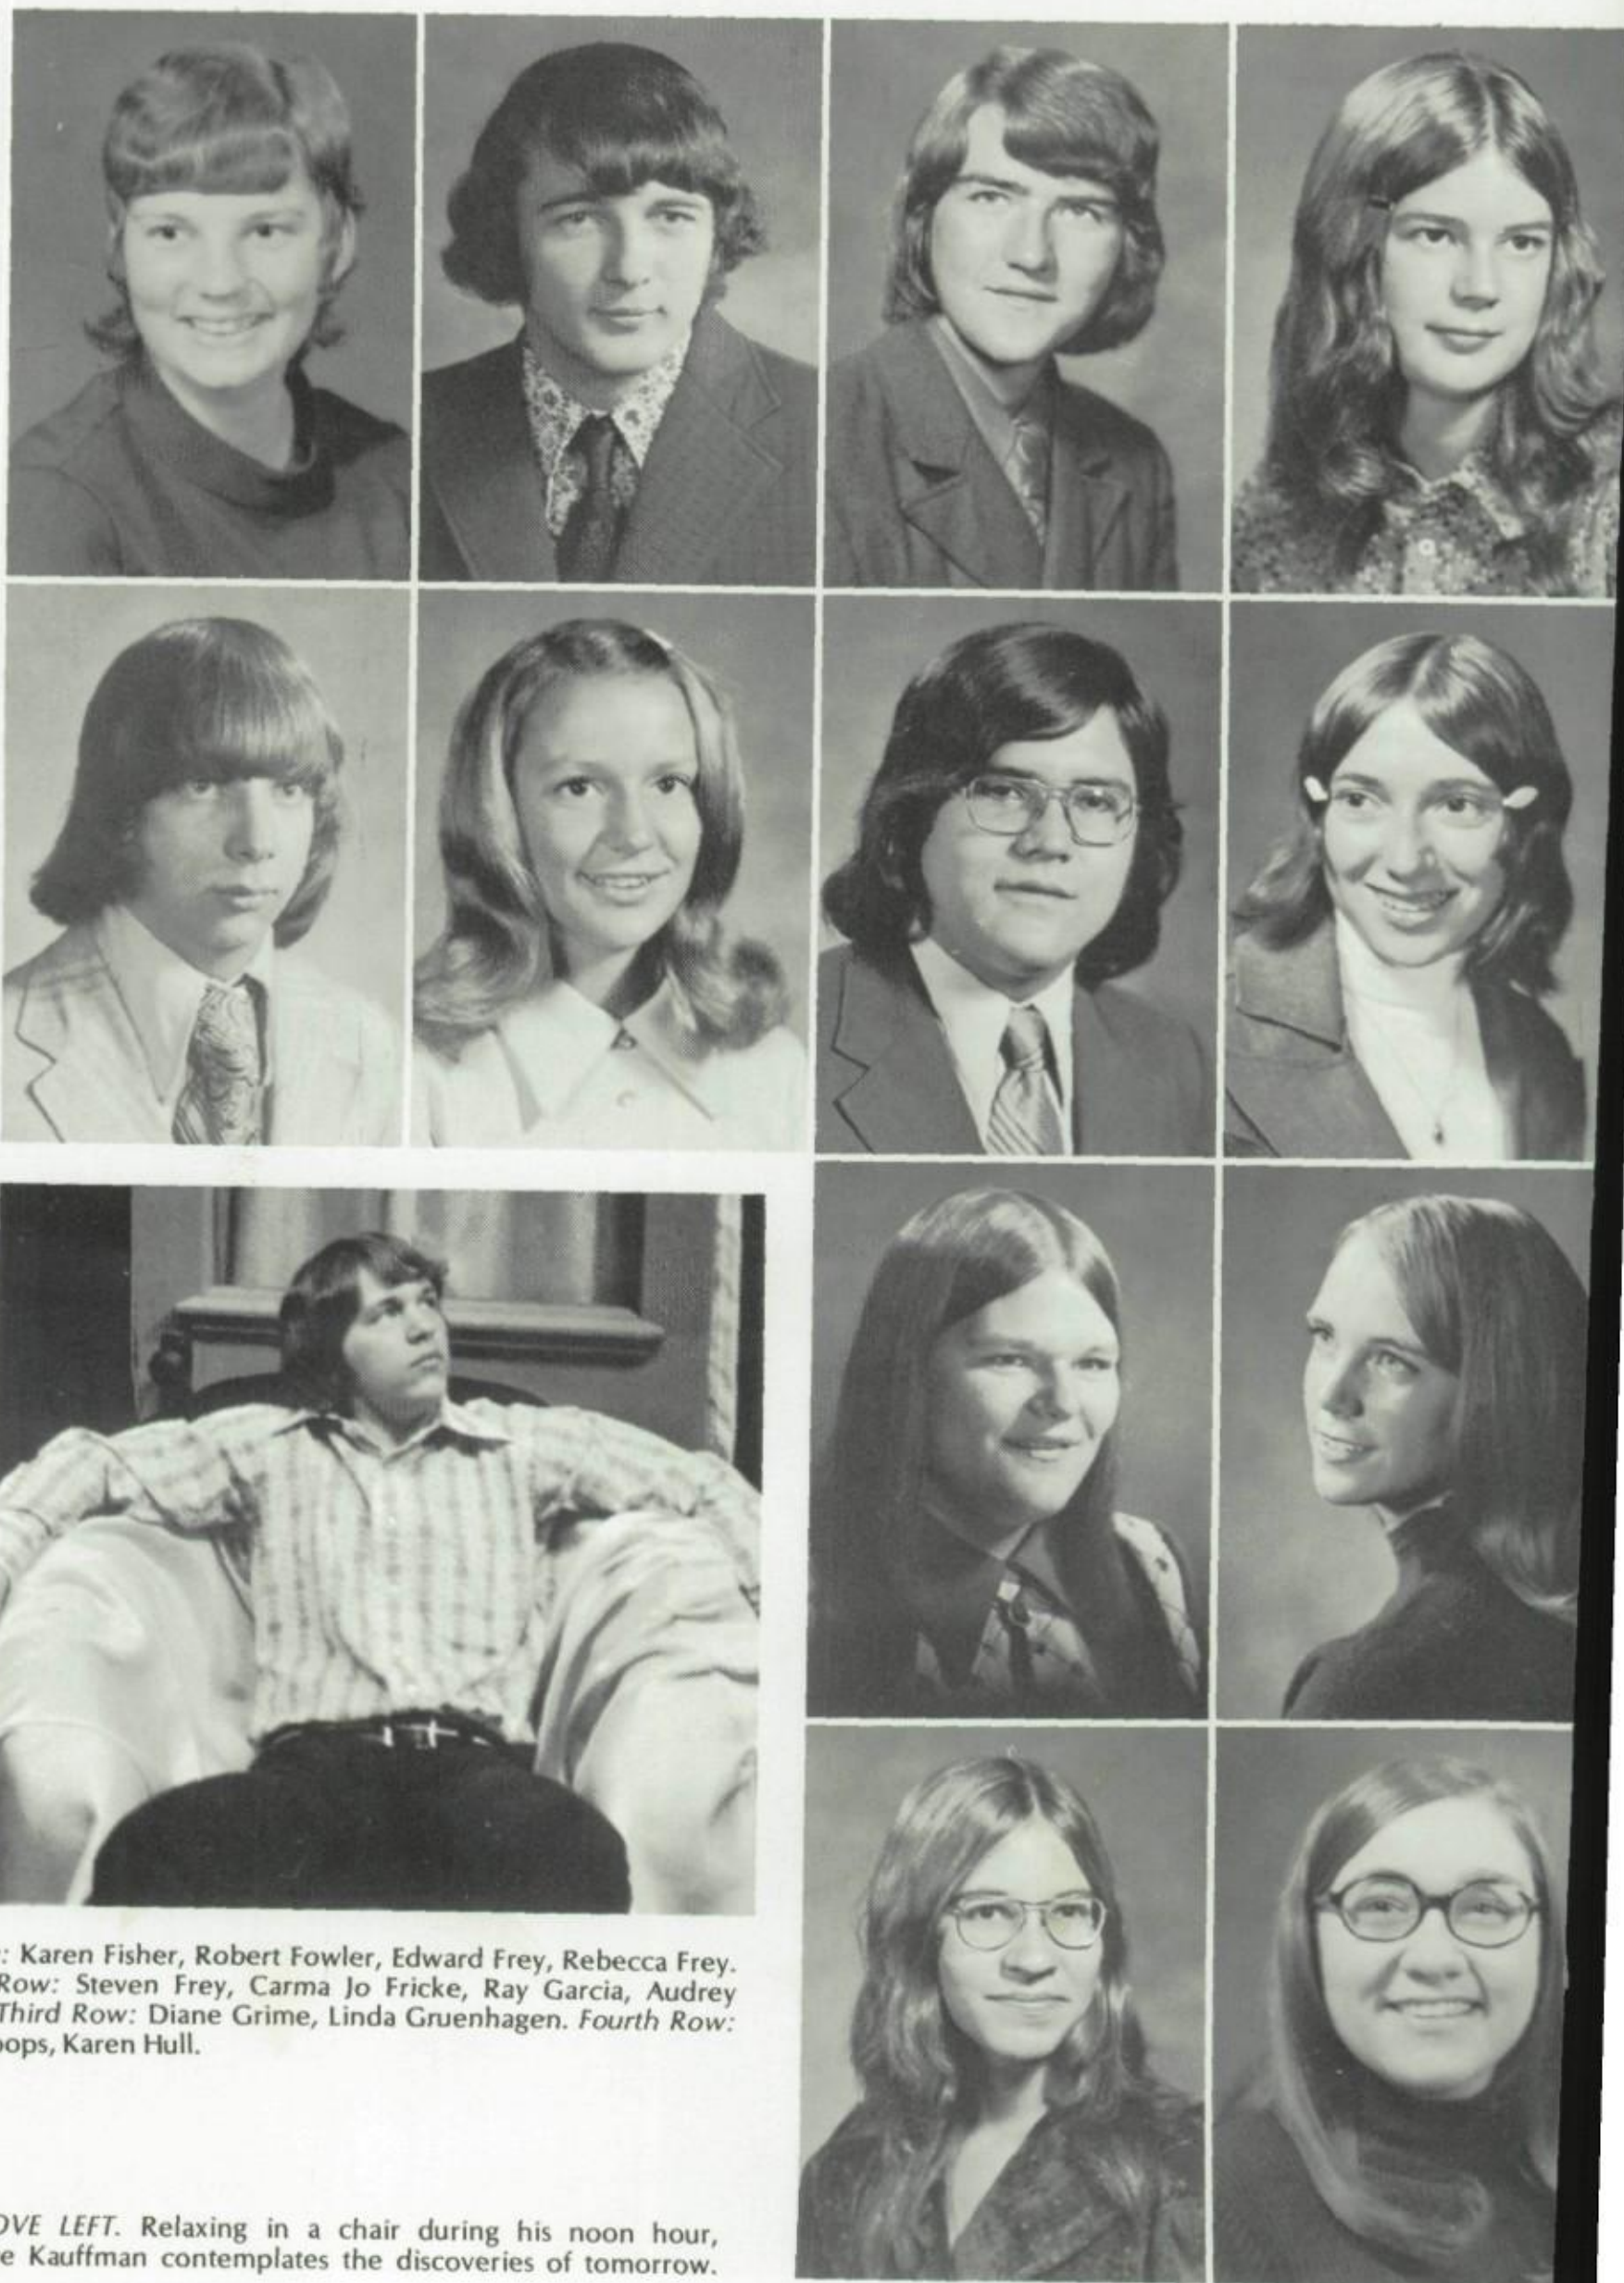

Senior year brings mixed emotions.

The senior year of high school brought a variety of activities to this year's graduating class. The students sold Christmas cards to earn money to finance the three-act play they presented in the spring. Many of the seniors attended Four-County Vocational School for their last two high school years, but they still participated in the class functions, including a spring bowling party and all class meetings. Class president — Mark Nofziger, vice-president — Jack Oyer, secretary — Carma Jo Fricke, and treasurer — Janet Oyer. Mr. Phil Rychener led the class this year as their adviser.

TOP LEFT. After six years Carma Jo Fricke has learned to use her study hall time wisely.

"Today we follow tomorrow we lead"

TOP LEFT. Con Beck was the proud recipient of one of the fifteen scholarship trophies, and the highest honor, the citizenship award.

TOP RIGHT. The junior marshalls, Ron Rittichier and Sandy Grieser, handed each graduate a white rose tipped in blue.

ABOVE. Mr. David Lersch gives the class last minute instructions before they take that long walk.

TOP. Fifty-seven seniors, the largest Pettisville graduating class ever, sat solemnly on the stage during their final moments as high school students.

LOWER LEFT. Terry Walker, district director of Youth for Christ in Pittsburg, was the speaker at the combined baccalaureate-commencement service.

LOWER RIGHT. Both boys and girls did some last minute checking as the big moment approached.

Juniors

The junior class had a busy year under the leadership of adviser — Miss Loretta Rupp, president — Ron Rittichier, vice president — Steve Gruenhagen, secretary — Sandy Grieser, and treasurer — Wanda Rupp. Besides selling hot dogs at home basketball games and mums for the homecoming, they held a combination car wash and bake sale. Many hours were also spent preparing for their class play held in October and the annual Junior-Senior Banquet held in May.

BELOW. Brad Rufenacht rests as he searches through the card catalog to find the book he wants.

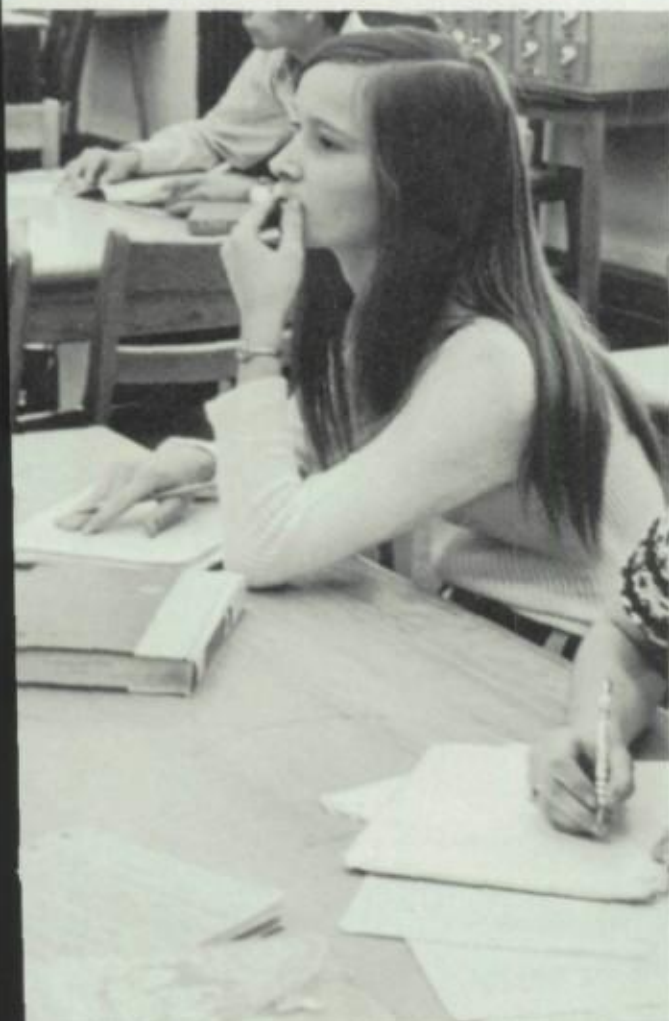

The sophomore class led by Mary Meck — president, Jennifer Lawrence — vice president, Jody Roth — secretary, Celeste Sigg — treasurer, and Mr. David Ripke — adviser, held a combination car wash and bake sale in May. They also sponsored a bowling party in November and a skating party in April. During Christmas vacation they traveled to the Toledo Sports Arena to see the world famous Harlem Globetrotters.

Top Row: Reed Aeschliman, Jim Aschliman, Judi Baird, Tom Beck, Neal Burkholder, Tony Carr. Second Row: John Crawford, Keith Eash, Lloyd Eby, David Fenton, Charlie Frey, Mig Frey. Third Row: Dean Genter, Brenda Gnagey, Beth Grieser. Fourth Row: Kenneth Gruenhagen, Juan Hernandez, Isaias Jaramillo. Fifth Row: Nick King, Tom Klopfenstein, Kandy Lantz. Sixth Row: Deb Leininger, John Liechty, Mary Mansfield. Not pictured: Dan Cerda, Celia Chapa.

Under the leadership of John Liechty — president, Rick Rupp — vice president, Phil Nofziger — treasurer, Tim Selgo — secretary, and Mr. Stephen Brannan — adviser, the freshmen enjoyed a skating party and a bowling party.

TOP. Top Row: Ralph Boger, Maribell Santiago, Ronnie Burkholder, Sean Windisch. Second Row: Pamela Grime, Laura McLaughlin, Cylinda Mock, Martha Carr. Front Row: Bobby Olvera, Betty Chaffee, Idalia Jarquin, Patty Grime.

TOP. Mrs. Linda Casler, Mrs. Lucille Zaerr, Mrs. LeAnna Gautsche, Mrs. Aldine Holsopple, Mr. Joe Rychener, and Mr. James Schrock as bus drivers transport students to and from school.

LEFT. School nurse, Mrs. Geneva Rueger, looks on as Annette Nafziger weighs herself.

ACTIVITIES

"The Enchanted Attic"

"The Enchanted Attic" was the name of the operetta presented by the fifth graders. The setting was an old attic on a rainy day when the children could not go outside. As they were playing, they uncovered a picture of Isobel, the ghost of the attic. The children were enchanted by the ghosts that appeared and by a duel between one of the children and Isobel's lover. The spell was broken by someone's scream just as the peak of excitement, and the children returned to real life.

ABOVE RIGHT. The trombone section was led by three seniors this year, Craig Rufenacht, Con Beck, and Jack Oyer.

RIGHT. The combined efforts of all choir members were needed to achieve the unified sound found this year. Deb Nofziger, Jennifer Lawrence, Alonna Gautsche, and Wanda Rupp work to sing the music perfectly.

Students experience life through music

Band adds music to school life

This band this year was the largest ever at Pettisville. Because of lack of space, however, it was sometimes divided up into a senior band and a junior band. Also, most of the band members participated in solo and ensemble contest and performed well.

"Southern Twilight Enchantment"

The gymnasium was transformed into a setting from the Deep South for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. The theme, "Southern Twilight Enchantment," was carried out in decorations provided by the junior class. Following the meal, hypnotist Wayne Laibe presented a program. Then the Anthony Wayne stage band entertained by playing several numbers. Following this, a movie entitled "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" was shown in the gym. The guests then proceeded to Delta for bowling, and then returned to the school for breakfast.

TOP. A pretty gazebo sheltered the table containing appetizers.
LOWER LEFT. The colorful border and flowering magnolia trees added to the illusion of a Southern garden.

UPPER LEFT. John Huber, portraying Mr. Black, the undertaker, discusses funeral arrangements with Mrs. Morlock, played by Alonna Gautsche, in the junior class play entitled "Rest Assured." Junior Frey, playing Mr. Morlock, insists that he is still alive although no one can see him.

UPPER RIGHT. The Morlock's maid, Karen Moden, is continually kept busy answering either the telephone or the door.

LEFT. Lucifer, Sam Frey, and his assistant, Mrs. Schmaltz, portrayed by Marlene Genter, have come to take Mr. Morlock "down below."

ABOVE. Marlin Gerig, Mr. Morlock's attorney, looks on as Sandy Grieser, Mr. Morlock's secretary, continues making funeral arrangements.

Mr. Morlock, a nervous, grouchy old goat who loves money, wouldn't let his daughter Mary become engaged to Joe Lanconi because of Joe's financial poverty. Mr. Morlock and Luigi, Joe's papa, have an argument that results in Luigi's death. Luigi comes back as a ghost to haunt Mr. Morlock until he gives his permission for the wedding. Needless to say, Mr. Morlock is frantic and all the family thinks he has gone crazy. Mr. Morlock soon realizes how wrong he has been and reforms, allowing the wedding and letting peace fall on the Morlock household.

BELOW LEFT. Jane Grieser, portraying Mary Morlock, and her boyfriend Joe Lanconi, played by Steve Gruenhagen, accept condolences at the death of her father from Jake, the Cockney newsboy, played by Delvin Rychener, and the washerwoman played by Deb Ketrang.

BELOW RIGHT. Neil Sauder, the physician, appears to be comforting Mrs. Morlock, but really has other things on his mind.

Senior class play entitled "Papa was a Preacher"

The senior class presented "Papa Was A Preacher" as their class play. The play told of the trials and tribulations which befell the children of Edwin Porter, a minister in a small town. Most of the trouble was caused by Miss Jonas, one of the elderly women of the parish, who believed minister's children should "shun the very appearance of evil." The play ended on a happy note when Miss Jonas was made to see how unfair she had been to the children.

ABOVE. Ted Porter, Con Beck, performs the ceremony for the 25th anniversary of his parents, Roger Nafziger and Sue Buehrer as they renew their wedding vows.

BELOW RIGHT. Orley Dunn, Dan Bruner, plays his trumpet to the accompaniment of Jeanette Porter, Kathy Miller, whom he happens to be courting.

LOWER RIGHT. Papa listens patiently as Miss Jonas, Linda Gruenhagen, complains about Aylene's, Angela Jarquin, antics while roller skating.

Members of the FFA won many honors for their chapter this year. The chapter was awarded the Gold Rating (superior) for Parliamentary Procedure. They also won the District Land Judging Contest and the Small Engine Contest. Nine Members were awarded the Chapter Degree. To help the community, they sold citrus fruit and picked up trash along many of the roads in Clinton Township. They attended both state and national conventions. The boys also were kept busy practicing and playing on the FFA basketball team.

Experience for tomorrow

At the District Convention, which the Pettisville Chapter hosted, Scott Rychener was elected vice president. At Christmas time the FTA set up a Nativity scene and gave a party for the special education classes.

This was a year of improvements for the Student Council. To see how Pettisville's S.C. could be improved, small groups visited area schools to find out how other schools and student councils are organized. Members were always ready to listen to the gripes of other students and to try to correct any problems.

Every morning the Meditation Committee started the school off with a thought to put sleepy minds in gear.

Este es un club magnifico

Los miembros del Mundo de Espanol aprendieron de la gente en el mundo espanol. Eso aprendieron en varias maneras. A una sesion, el senor Roberto Sauder presento un discurso y unas fotos acerca de Guatemala y Mexico. Otra manera de aprender de la cultura espanola fue en comer tipica comida mexicana en un restaurante mexicano. Tambien, visitaron a la Iglesia del Buen Pastor. Unas miembras participaron en la primera Fiesta Espanola del condado Fulton que tuvo lugar en la escuela de Archbold. En esta manera, el club espera ganar un mejor entendimiento de la gente espanola por todo el mundo.

The girls in FHA this year received much satisfaction from doing things for others. In the fall, they went trick or treating for UNICEF. Later in the year they took favors to shut-ins, caroled for people in the community, held an Easter egg hunt for the children, cleaned up some area roads, and provided a coat check during basketball season. Proceeds from a penny pitch, which they sponsored, went to the Children's Hospital in Columbus.

The FSA held a science fair this spring at which projects were chosen to go to the District Science Fair at Bowling Green State University. Mark Christenberry, with his project on water power and electricity and John Crawford's project on cancer earned superior ratings in district competition. John also took his project to the State Science Day in Columbus where he received an excellent rating.

This year the National Honor Society inducted eight new members and were in charge of the Lariat.

Besides performing the usual matters of being student librarians, the members sold paperback books to those wanting personal copies of books. Basketball still no. 1 at Pettisville

The Pettisville Blackbird varsity basketball team again compiled another winning season on the hardcourt. Led by seniors Jack Oyer and Tom Schmidt, juniors Don Meck and Ron Rittichier, and sophomore Jim Selgo, the Birds ended the season with a 12 win and 9 loss record. At mid-season the Birds had a 4 win and 7 loss record, but came back to win their last 8 of 10 ballgames.

In tournament action the Birds swept to the sectional tournament title by beating the Fayette Eagles and the Hilltop Cadets. In the district tournament Pettisville was beaten by one point by hot-shooting Holgate. Congratulations to the team for another exciting and winning season.

The Pettisville Blackbird baseball team had an outstanding season finishing with a great 15 win and 4 loss slate. The team used great pitching and timely hits to achieve this record.

The team won the Buckeye Border Conference with a 5-1 record. They copped the sectional and district titles and finished as regional runners up.

Tom Schmidt topped the pitching staff with an 8 win and 1 loss season. Duane Price was right behind with a 7 win 2 loss record for the season.

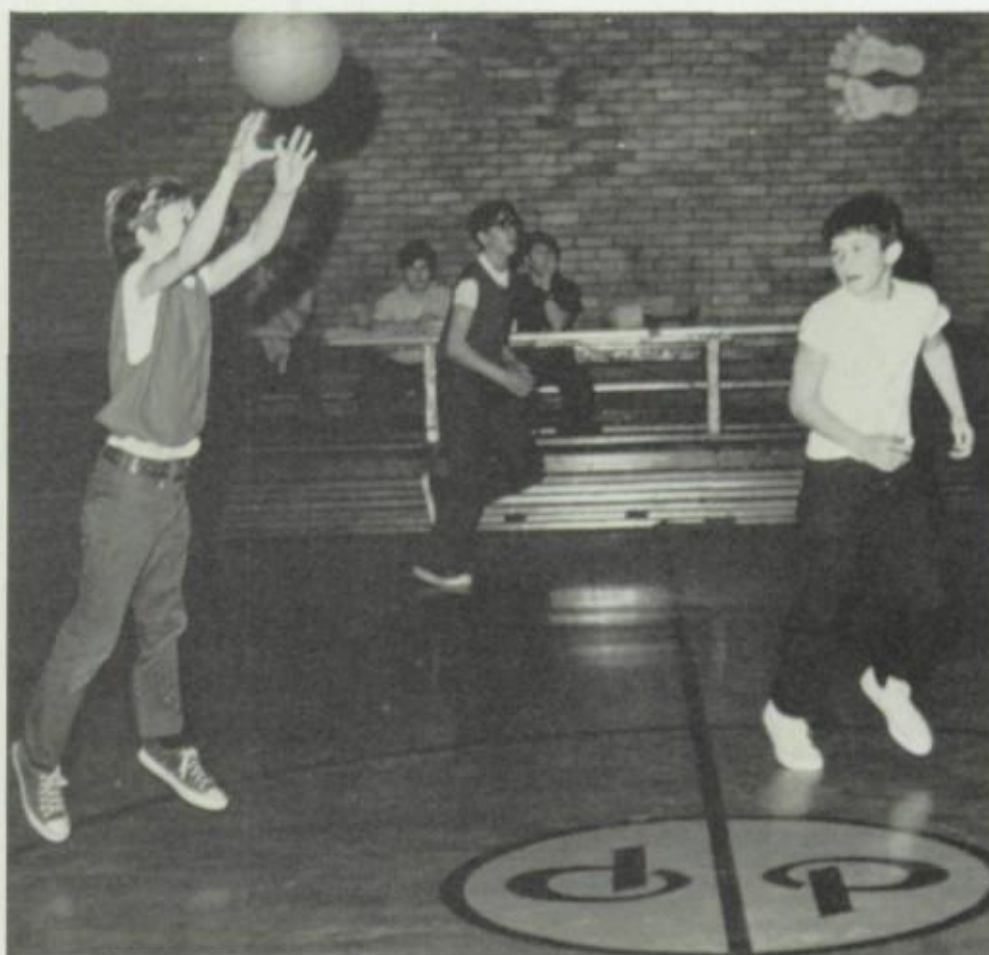

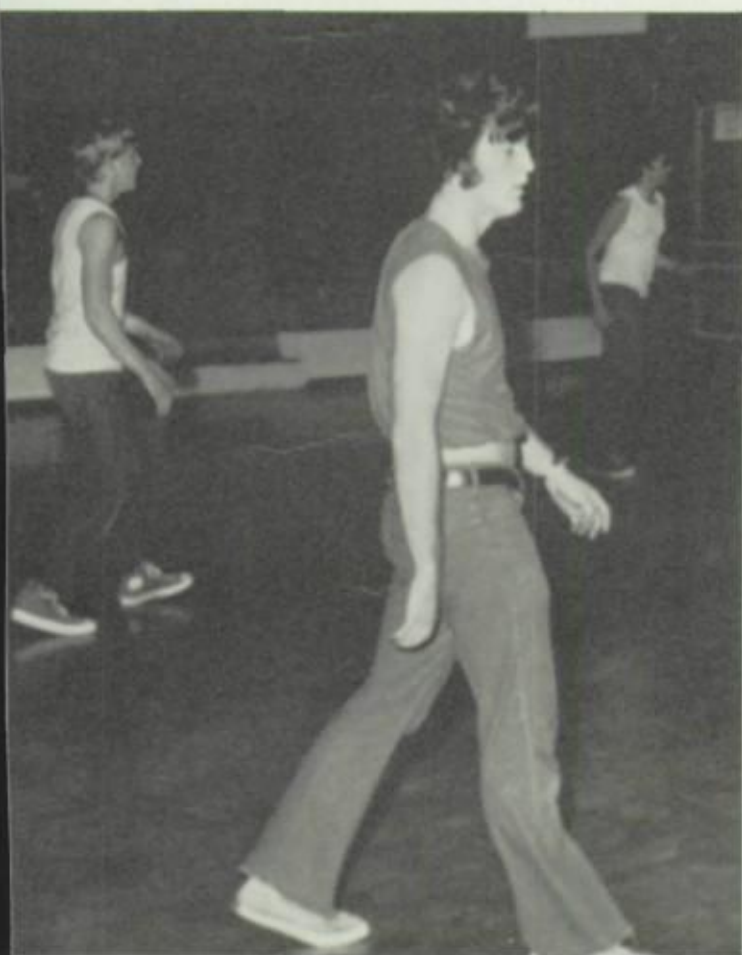

In the Buckeye Border Conference all-league team selections, Gary Rupp and Tom Schmidt were unanimous first team choices. Mark Nofziger and Jack Oyer were named to the second team, and Steve Gruenhagen and Ron Rittichier received honorable mention.
